

Where
the past is present

DETROIT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

African American History Day

Saturday, February 1, 2014

FREE ADMISSION 11 A.M. – 4 P.M.

- Arts and crafts vendor market
- Kids activities
- Renowned storyteller Ivory D. Williams at noon
- Author and genealogist Bruce C. Ford, Sr. discusses his book A Tree Fell ... And Its Roots Survived at 2pm
- A caricature artist, refreshments and more!

Guests will also learn more about Black history from historical organizations in the area including the Black Historic Sites Committee and several neighborhood associations.

In partnership with:

Media Partners:

MICHIGAN CHRONICLE

tellusdetroit.com
Tell Us USA News Network

5401 Woodward Ave.
Detroit, MI 48202

(313) 833-1805
www.detroithistorical.org

