

APPLICATIONS OPEN!

YOUTH ADVISORY COUNCIL!

LEAD. LEARN. CREATE.

The Detroit Historical Society's Youth Advisory Council (YAC) is looking for the next round of councilmembers to join our team for the upcoming year!

YAC is a unique leadership development experience that embeds high school students into the museum world. Councilmembers will gain first-hand experience and discover how the Society tells Detroit's stories and why those stories matter. Together with DHS staff, they will explore the role of museums in building community.

YAC members will gain important life skills and work collaboratively with their cohort to envision, plan, and execute a final project of their own creation! Along with DHS staff, members will help DHS chart the future of our modern museums.

Applications can be found here: <https://forms.gle/bbXGy6xhTbcxYycZ8>

Applications are due Friday, October 30th 2020.

Orientation for accepted members will be November 21st, 2020.

Please note: This is a school-year long commitment. Councilmembers will meet virtually via Zoom once a month.
