Meet Our Chef: Rytonie "Chef Tony" Durden Jr. CC.

Born and raised in the City of Detroit, Rytonie "Chef Tony" Durden Jr. remembers picking up his first spatula in the kitchen at the tender age of three. He reflects on growing up with a large family and always being in the center of the kitchen wanting to help mix something up. During the holiday times and family BBQs he always wanted to help prepare the meals for family and friends. It was at a young age where the love for food was established in Rytonie's heart. Starting his professional catering journey at his family owned lounge at the age of sixteen. Chef Tony gives credit to his family for the smiles and feedback they gave him for inspiring him to chase a career in culinary arts. Chef Tony received his formal culinary training at Baker College through their premiere culinary program, known as The Culinary Institute of Michigan where he received a degree in business with a major in culinary arts.

Working throughout the Metro Detroit area with a wide range of companies like Hyatt, Compass Group, DMC, and more. With these experiences in the culinary industry it helped with the establishing of his company Durdens Catering in the year 2006. During Chef Tonys culinary journey he has had the honor to cater events celebrities and public figures such as Pattie Labelle, Kem Kemistry, Ronald Isley, Brenda Jones Detroit City Council President, Karen Clark Sheard and more. He credits one of his biggest accomplishments in his young culinary career to meeting his idol Chef G. Garvin and competing on his national television show the "Underground BBQ Challenge" and winning.
