COMING SOON TO THE DETROIT HISTORICAL MUSEUM: MOTOWN BLACK & WHITE!

DETROIT - The Detroit Historical Museum is proud to present Motown Black & White in the Community Gallery from Saturday, April 16 – July 3, 2016. An invitation-only MB&W red carpet premiere is scheduled for Thursday, April 21 at 6:00 PM.

Motown Black & White is based upon the highly coveted Motown book Hype & Soul: Behind the Scenes at Motown by Al Abrams (Pub. 2011). It will also unveil the cover of Abrams’ yet unreleased book, titled High On Soul: Tell Me It’s Just a Rumor Berry (Pub. Date 2017).

Motown Black & White is a rearview and forward visual look at Motown through the lens of Al Abrams, an eighteen-year-old white Jewish kid from a Detroit working class family who became Motown’s iconic press officer. Abrams created the magic media auras that surrounded almost all of Motown’s stars, including Berry Gordy, The Supremes, Temptations, Four Tops, Smokey Robinson & The Miracles, Mary Wells, Marv Johnson, Martha & The Vandellas, Stevie Wonder, and Marvin Gaye, among others. He "hyped" the “hits,” derailed the gossip, and created the myths. Motown Black & White allows Detroiters to bask in the spotlight of knowing that Motown music is their music. It was made in Detroit.

*Please note that Al Abrams passed away on October 3, 2015. Abrams will receive a Distinguished Music Award posthumously at the Detroit Music Awards event at the Fillmore Theatre on Friday, April 29—a fitting tribute to honor Detroit’s iconic Motown press officer.
